The NQ6015 is a Generation 3 Military style tactical monocular. It was designed to be hand-held, head-worn, weapons mounted, and camera-adaptable using optional accessories. The lightweight 6015 features a low battery indicator and built-in infrared illumination for situations with little or no ambient light. The included Military headstrap assembly allows for hours of comfortable hands-free use while leaving the user with one eye still trained for nighttime viewing. This 6015 is the commercial variant of the Military PVS-14. Ships with 6015, carry case, Military head strap, manual and batteries.
